

How to submit your title

CABI actively encourages publishers to submit print or electronic life sciences journals for consideration for indexing in our databases. Both print and electronic journals are accepted; in both cases access to the full-text publication is important. New submissions are reviewed according to subject matter, potential yield, peer-review and geographic origin, with responses sent to publishers following each review. Please allow 2 months from submission, for our response following the review. Further details of CABI's selection criteria for new journals are available here.

Electronic journals

To submit an electronic journal for consideration, please complete the online form. Please note that all questions marked with a * must be completed in order for the form to be submitted successfully. Once all the questions have been answered, please click on the green "submit" button.

In order to submit a print journal for consideration, please send two print issues to:

CABI also invites publishers to send a complimentary copy of new books in the life sciences area for review in our databases. A copy of the resulting abstract will be supplied to the publisher.
