KNOWLEDGE FOR LIFE

CABI: a unique organization that combines research and publishing

- CABI is an inter-governmental, not-for-profit scientific research and publishing organization governed by a United Nations treaty-level agreement.
- Our mission is to improve people's lives by providing information and applying scientific expertise to solve problems in agriculture and the environment.
- We employ more than 400 dedicated scientists and publishing professionals across 21 locations worldwide.
- In our global publishing programme we produce books, review journals, databases that hold over 10 million records, online compendia and other online resources.
- Unlike other publishers, we use our revenues to support scientific and rural development projects that help improve the lives of the world's poorest people.

CABI: global marketing, individually tailored for international presence

- As a truly global organization, we have an international distribution network with channels to market your book to its target audience worldwide.
- As a CABI author, you will be assigned a CABI marketing manager who will tailor a promotional campaign specifically for your book.
- An individual leaflet promoting your book will be mailed to existing customers, institutions and libraries, and members of relevant societies. Your book will also be included in our annual books catalogue, subject brochures and relevant cluster leaflets.
- Email alerts advertising your book will be sent to individuals registered on our extensive in-house mailing list both 3 months prior to and on publication.
- We exhibit our books at many major international conferences throughout the year and also advertise via posters, leaflets and delegate packs.
- Your book will receive active social media promotion to the scientific community through our blogs and social media campaigns.

CABI: meet our expert commissioning editors! We would be delighted to hear from you if you have a new book publishing idea, or if you have any feedback on our CABI books and other publications.

CABI: an organization with real values

Remember, CABI is not just a publisher.

We are committed to sharing knowledge

Knowledge enables people to support themselves and improve their lives when it is communicated effectively.

We care about people

We use our skills to help people around the world – from smallholder farmers in developing countries to researchers and academics. We focus on the uptake and application of knowledge.

We value partnerships

Through local, national and international partnerships we can disseminate knowledge with greater reach and impact.

We believe in long-term solutions

We build lasting, value-creating relationships with our customers and stakeholders.

We are objective and impartial

We will not allow what we say to be influenced by political or commercial considerations. We work with partners including governments to help people. The information we provide is high quality, evidence based, relevant and reliable.
