Discovery and analysis

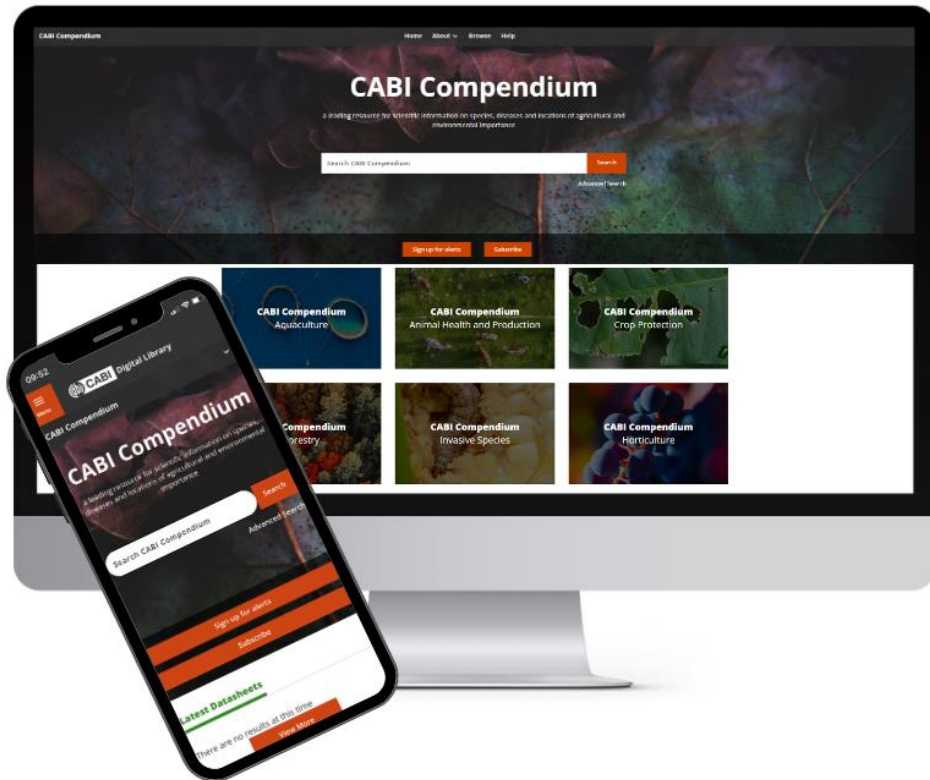

Researchers stay up to date, supporting systematic review and analysis

Scale and coverage

9000 journals, ~17million records, adding >600k records each year

Supporting evidence synthesis through data, AI, and convening experts on donor topics

Compendium

Extensive coverage

~8000 full datasheets on plants, animals and micro-organisms; data and image library

Distribution data

Detailed up-to-date data on species distribution, and pest-host relationships

Decision-support tools

Support users understand and prepare for risk

Support tools

Horizon Scanning Tool

The Horizon Scanning Tool supports decision making and helps you identify, categorize and prioritize invasive species threats.

The screenshot displays the CABI Digital Library interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the CABI logo, 'Digital Library' text, and user information including 'Authenticated via CABI', a 'Bookshop' button, a 'Browse' dropdown menu, a search icon, a shopping cart icon, and the user name 'Damian Bird'. Below this is a secondary navigation bar with 'Books', 'Home', 'About', 'Browse', and 'Authors' links. The main content area features a large heading 'Royal Entomological Society Collection' in white text on a dark background. Below the heading is a search bar with the placeholder text 'Search Royal Entomological Society Collection' and an orange 'Search' button. To the right of the search bar is a link for 'Advanced Search'. A 'Sign up for alerts' button is located at the bottom of the search area. The background of the main content area shows a close-up of a butterfly's wing. Below the search area, there is a section titled 'The Royal Entomological Society' with a logo on the left. The logo consists of a stylized insect body in purple and blue. The text to the right of the logo reads: 'The Royal Entomological Society (RES) is devoted to the understanding and development of insect science. It was established in 1833 and is one of the world's leading authorities on insect conservation and control, supporting international collaboration, research, and the publication of insect science discoveries and understanding.' Below this text, it states: 'In 2023, CABI entered into a publishing partnership with the Royal Entomological Society.' and provides a link: 'Find out more about the RES Series.' A green 'Help' button is located at the bottom right of this section.

Discussion

Is this programme of resources useful to you and your users? What would make it more useful?

Are there ways we can work together to showcase research and practice in your region?
